

Family & Possessives

Session 5 · Pre-A1 English for Adults

Recap: Oral Production: Asking and Replying with Numbers and Phone Numbers

- We say phone numbers one digit at a time in English (e.g., 3-1-5, 4-5-6, 7-8-2-1).
- We share our age using I am + number + years old (e.g., I am 20 years old).
- We ask for contact info with What is your phone number?

How do you say the digits of your phone number in English right now?

An illustration of a woman with long dark hair and a red sweater sitting on a couch, holding a smartphone that displays a photo of a family (a man, a woman, and a child). She is pointing at the screen and talking to a man with glasses and a beard, who is sitting next to her. They are in a modern, brightly lit interior space, possibly a cafe or office lounge, with plants and a desk visible in the background.

Who Are the Important People Around You?

When meeting friends or coworkers, we frequently share pictures of relatives and talk about everyday items that belong to us.

Learning Objectives

Objectives

- 1. Identify relatives: Name immediate and extended family members in clear, spoken English.
- 2. Present a family tree: Describe personal connections using simple sentences like This is my father.
- 3. Contrast possessives: Correctly use my / mine and your / yours with or without nouns.

Key Vocabulary

Key words

Family

A group of connected relatives (familia).

My

Possessive adjective before a noun (mi / mis).

Mine

Possessive pronoun used without a noun (mío / mía).

Your

Possessive adjective before a noun (tu / tus / su).

The Core Family Members

In English, we describe our immediate household and parents with distinct gender-specific pairs:

- Mother (mamá) & Father (papá)
- Sister (hermana) & Brother (hermano)

Grandparents and Extended Family

Grandparents

Grandmother (abuela) and Grandfather (abuelo). Together, they are grandparents.

Aunts & Uncles

Aunt (tía) is a sister of your parent; Uncle (tío) is a brother of your parent.

Cousins

Cousin serves for both male and female relatives (primo / prima).

In-Laws

Family by marriage: Father-in-law (suegro), Mother-in-law (suegra), Brother-in-law (cuñado).

Understanding a Family Tree

Generations flow vertically from top to bottom, while siblings and spouses sit on horizontal connecting lines.

Match Family Roles

Match the words with the definitions

Cousin

Grandmother

Uncle

Brother-in-law

The mother of your father or mother

The brother of your husband or wife

The brother of your mother or father

The child of your aunt or uncle

Match Family Roles

Match the words with the definitions

Cousin

Grandmother

Uncle

Brother-in-law

A

The mother of your father or mother

B

The brother of your husband or wife

C

The brother of your mother or father

D

The child of your aunt or uncle

Watch: Talking About Relatives

Watch this conversational clip to hear natural English pronunciation of common family terms and expressions.

Introducing Relatives in Sentences

This is my...

Use This is my + relative to introduce one person directly: "This is my father, Luis."

These are my...

Use These are my + plural relatives for two or more people: "These are my sisters, Elena and Sofia."

Possessive Adjective: My

My is a possessive adjective. It always goes directly before a noun to specify who owns or relates to that person or item.

- This is my book.
- She is my sister.
- Where are my keys?

Definition

My needs a noun right after it: my phone, my family.

A warm, inviting cafe scene. In the foreground, a round wooden table holds a white cup of coffee with a heart-shaped latte art, a small potted plant, and a book titled 'A BRIGHTER TOMORROW' with a tropical cover. The background shows a bright window with a view of palm trees and a beach, and a colorful abstract painting on the wall.

The book is mine.

Possessive Pronoun: Mine

Mine is a possessive pronoun. It stands completely alone without a noun because the object is already known.

- This house is mine.
- The red backpack is mine.
- That coffee is mine!

Notice: Never put a noun after mine!

Side-by-Side: My vs. Mine

My + Noun

"This is my bag."

Always pairs with the naming noun directly after.

Mine (No Noun)

"The bag is mine."

Replaces the noun entirely to avoid repetition.

Mistake to Avoid

Never say "Where is mine keys?" Always say "Where are my keys?"

Choose My or Mine

Complete the sentence correctly: "Excuse me, that jacket is _____."

1.

mine

2.

mine jacket

3.

my jacket is 4.

my

Choose My or Mine

Complete the sentence correctly: "Excuse me, that jacket is _____."

1.

mine

2.

mine jacket

3.

my jacket is

4.

my

Talking to You: Your vs. Yours

Adjective vs. Pronoun for the person you speak to.

1. Your (+ Noun)

Use your before the noun (singular or plural):

“Is this your phone?” or “Are these your keys?”

2. Yours (No Noun)

Use yours when the object noun is already named or omitted:

“Is this phone yours?” or “These keys are yours.”

Summary: The 4 Possessive Forms

Listen: Sofia's Family

Listen to the audio and answer the questions

Sofia Explains Her Family Photos

Play audio

1 Where were Sofia's family photos taken?

2 What is Sofia's father's name?

3 Who is Camila?

4 Whose red backpack is on the table?

Listen: Sofia's Family

Check your answers below

Sofia Explains Her Family Photos

Play audio

1

In Cali

2

Luis

3

Sofia's cousin

4

It is Sofia's (mine)

Step-by-Step: Presenting a Relative

Step 1: Relation & Name

"This is my mother. Her name is Patricia."

Step 2: Age & Job

"She is 48 years old. She is a doctor."

Step 3: Location

"She lives in Bogotá with my father."

Model Tree: Carolina's Family

Read how Carolina introduces her relatives clearly:

- “This is my grandfather Luis. He is 75 years old.”
- “This is my brother George. He is an engineer.”
- “This is my husband Pablo. This house is ours.”

Complete with Possessives

This is _____ brother, and that car over there is _____.

Word bank

yours

mine

my

your

Complete with Possessives

This is my brother, and that car over there is yours.

Word bank

yours

mine

my

your

My Family Tree Template

Use this diagram format to map out your relatives with their names and roles.

Create Your Family Tree

Draw or write 3 relatives from your family tree. Use the phrase "This is my [relative]. His/Her name is [name]." for each one.

What you'll need: 🎨🖋️

Notebook or digital document, family names

Can-Do Self Assessment

1 Family Vocabulary: I can name parents, siblings, and grandparents.

2 Tree Presentation: I can say "This is my..." to introduce my relatives.

3 Possessives Mastery: I can use my/mine and your/yours correctly in sentences.

Check Your Understanding

Question 1:

Which possessive goes directly before a noun: "my" or "mine"

Question 2:

Complete: "Is this phone _____?"

Check Your Understanding

