

Everyday Objects and Demonstratives

Using This, That, These, Those and Asking "Whose...?"

Recap: Countries and Nationalities: Where Are You From?

- We ask origin with Where are you from? and answer with I am from + country.
- Nationalities describe identity: I am from Colombia. I am Colombian.
- In English, both country names and nationalities always start with a capital letter.

Quick Question:

She is from Mexico. What is her nationality?

Country and Nationality Review

Maria is from Mexico. She is _____. Ken is from Japan. He is _____.

Word bank

Japanese

Spain

Mexican

Japan

Mexico

Country and Nationality Review

Maria is from Mexico. She is Mexican. Ken is from Japan. He is Japanese.

Word bank

Japanese

Spain

Mexican

Japan

Mexico

Whose Bag Is On the Desk?

Imagine you are sitting in a seminar room. Someone left a notebook nearby, and someone across the room left keys. How do you ask who owns them in English?

LOST
AND FOUND

PEOPLE
IDEAS
OPPORTUNITY
A BRIGHTER
TOMORROW

SAME
CURIOSITY
BRIGHTER
FUTURES

LEARN
DISCOVER
BELONG

Learning Objectives

Objectives

1

Identify everyday personal objects using singular and plural nouns with correct articles.

2

Point out items near and far using this, that, these, and those.

3

Ask and answer Whose...? questions using possessive pronouns (mine, yours, hers, theirs).

Key Vocabulary

Key words

This: One thing near you (aquí / este).

That: One thing far from you (allá / ese).

These: Multiple things near you (estos).

Those: Multiple things far away (esos).

Warm-up: What's in Your Bag?

Reviewing a / an from Session

3

Look inside your bag or on your desk. Choose three items and introduce them to the class using a or an:

- Use a before consonant sounds: a pen, a notebook, a phone, a watch.
- Use an before vowel sounds: an umbrella, an apple, an ID card.

Remember

Do not use a / an with plural words like keys or glasses!

Everyday Personal Objects

Here are four essential objects we carry every day. Notice spelling and clear pronunciation:

Phone

A mobile smartphone used for calls, messaging, and daily work.

Wallet

A small flat pocket case for holding paper money and bank cards.

Watch

A timepiece worn on your wrist to tell the time during meetings.

Laptop

A portable computer used for studying, classes, and job tasks.

Singular vs. Plural Objects

In English, most singular nouns take -s to become plural:

- one pen → two pens
- one key → three keys
- one book → four books

! Always Plural

Glasses has two lenses, so it is always plural: These are my glasses.

Match Objects with Definitions

Match the words with the definitions

Keys

An item worn on the face to see clearly

Glasses

Metal objects used to lock and unlock doors

Wallet

A pocket case for paper money and cards

Laptop

A portable computer used for study or work

Match Objects with Definitions

Match the words with the definitions

Keys

A

An item worn on the face to see clearly

Glasses

B

Metal objects used to lock and unlock doors

Wallet

C

A pocket case for paper money and cards

Laptop

D

A portable computer used for study or work

Understanding Demonstratives: Distance and Quantity

KEY CONCEPT

We choose a demonstrative word based on two simple questions: How many? (one or more) and Where is it? (near or far).

Near (Aquí)

This: 1 object close to you.

This is my phone in my hand.

These: 2+ objects close to you.

These are my pens right here.

Far (Allá)

That: 1 object away from you.

That is an umbrella over there.

Those: 2+ objects away from you.

Those are keys on that distant table.

Pointing with This, That, These, Those

Use natural body gestures when speaking. Reach out your hand for this and these. Point across the room for that and those.

Remember the verb: use is with singular (This is / That is) and are with plural (These are / Those are).

Singular Demonstratives: This vs. That

This is a pen

Singular noun (pen) + close distance = This is a...

That is an umbrella

Singular noun (umbrella) + far distance =
That is an...

Plural Demonstratives: These vs. Those

These are pens

Plural nouns (pens) + near distance = These are...

Those are keys

Plural nouns (keys) + far distance = Those are...

Choose the Correct Demonstrative

Look at three notebooks on a desk across the room. Which sentence is correct?

1.

That is a notebook.

2.

These are notebooks.

3.

This is a notebook.

4.

Those are notebooks.

Choose the Correct Demonstrative

Look at three notebooks on a desk across the room. Which sentence is correct?

1. That is a notebook.

2. These are notebooks.

3. This is a notebook.

4. Those are notebooks.

Demonstrative Summary Matrix

Review the four combinations at a glance. Notice how number and distance interact:

This (Singular · Near)

Structure: This is + singular noun.

Example: This is my watch on my arm.

That (Singular · Far)

Structure: That is + singular noun.

Example: That is an umbrella by the exit.

These (Plural · Near)

Structure: These are + plural noun.

Example: These are my glasses in my hand.

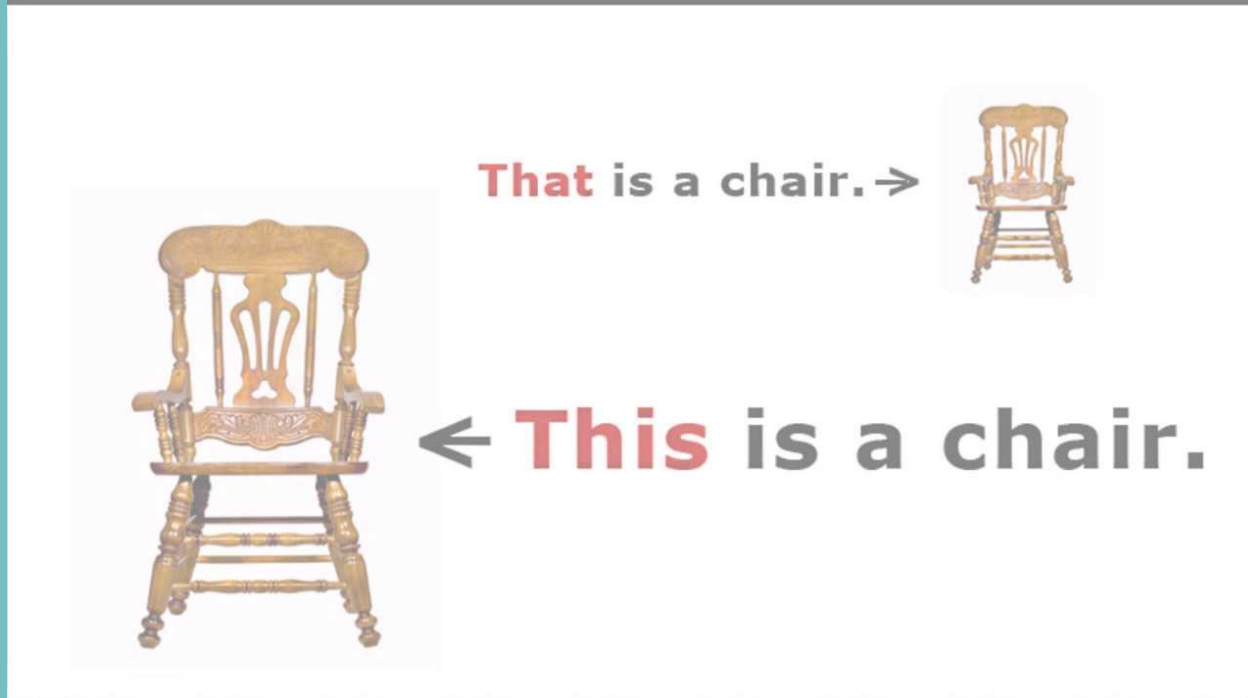

Those (Plural · Far)

Structure: Those are + plural noun.

Example: Those are keys on the counter.

Watch: Pointing to Objects Near and Far

Watch this real-life demonstration of everyday office objects and practice saying the demonstratives aloud:

Asking About Possession: "Whose...?"

KEY CONCEPT

We use Whose (¿De quién?) to ask who owns an item. Notice how the noun follows Whose:

- Singular: Whose bag is this? / Whose watch is that?
- Plural: Whose keys are these? / Whose glasses are those?

To reply, we often use possessive pronouns without repeating the noun: It's mine. They're hers.

Answering with Possessive Pronouns

Possessive pronouns stand alone. Do not add a noun after them:

Singular Objects (It is...)

It's mine. (Es mío/mía)

It's yours. (Es tuyo/suya)

It's his. (Es de él)

It's hers. (Es de ella)

Plural Objects (They are...)

They're mine. (Son míos/mías)

They're yours. (Son tuyos)

They're ours. (Son nuestros)

They're theirs. (Son de ellos)

How to Inquire and Return Objects

1. Ask Question

Whose bag is this?

2. Identify Owner

It is not mine. It is hers!

3. Hand It Over

Here you go! – Thanks!

Lost and Found Audio Check

Listen to the audio and answer the questions

At the Campus Lost and Found

 Play audio

- 1 What item inside the bag belongs to Sofia?
- 2 Is the black backpack the clerk's personal bag?
- 3 Whose glasses are on the table?
- 4 Where did Sofia leave her belongings?

Lost and Found Audio Check

Check your answers below

 At the Campus Lost and Found

 Play audio

- 1 Her wallet belongs to Sofia.
- 2 No, it is in lost and found.
- 3 They are Alex's glasses (they are his).
- 4 After English class on campus.

Lost and Found Role-Play Practice

Work in pairs. One student is the Desk Attendant, and one is the Visitor:

Attendant: "Hello! Is this your watch?"

Visitor: "No, it isn't mine. My watch is black. Whose watch is this?"

Attendant: "It's hers. And are these your keys?"

Visitor: "Yes, they're mine! Thank you."

Switch roles and substitute with phone, laptop, umbrella, or glasses.

Common Mistakes to Avoid

Mistake 1: Confusing Nouns with Pronouns

✗ Where is mine pen?

✓ Where is my pen? (Use my with a noun; mine stands alone).

Mistake 2: Mixing Is and Are

✗ These is my keys.

✓ These are my keys. (Plurals always take are).

Tip: Quick Check Rule

If you point your finger far across the room, it starts with T-H-A or T-H-O:
That / Those.

Tip: Whose vs. Who's

Whose = possession (¿De quién?).

Who's = Who is (¿Quién es?).

Self-Check: "I Can..." Progress Check

Read each statement and confirm your progress for today's session:

I can name everyday personal and classroom objects in English.

I can choose correctly between this, that, these, and those based on distance and quantity.

I can ask "Whose is this?" and answer using possessive pronouns (mine, yours, hers, theirs).

Check Your Understanding

Question 1:

Which word completes: "Look over there! _____ is an umbrella near the door."

Question 2:

Which question asks about the owner of these keys?

Question 3:

How do you answer "Whose phone is this?" if it belongs to you?

Check Your Understanding

Answer 1:

That

Answer 2:

Whose keys are these?

Answer 3:

It's mine.