

Oral Production: Numbers and Phone Numbers

Introducing Yourself and Others · Session

Recap: TO BE Negative, A/An, and WH-Questions

- Negative form uses subject + to be + not (for example, I am not / I'm not, she isn't).
- We choose a before consonant sounds (a doctor) and an before vowel sounds (an engineer).
- Question words ask about specifics: What for things, Where for places, and How old for age.

Learning Objectives

Objectives

Hold a short question-and-answer exchange about yourself (name, age, birthday, city, reason for studying English).

Say and understand cardinal numbers 0–20 and tens from 20 to 100 with accurate word stress.

Dictate, comprehend, and write phone numbers accurately digit by digit in social and professional settings.

Key Vocabulary

Number

A digit or count value.

Phone

A mobile calling device.

Age

The years you lived.

Birthday

The day you were born.

An illustration of a conference registration area. In the foreground, a man with a beard and glasses, wearing a dark suit and a backpack, is handing a 'Participant' badge to a woman at a registration desk. The woman, with dark hair in a bun and wearing a dark blazer with a pink scarf, is smiling. On the desk are stacks of pink brochures and a sign that says 'A MORE CONNECTED TOMORROW'. In the background, other people are visible, including a man in a suit and a woman in a pink suit. A directional sign on the wall lists 'Registration', 'Sessions', 'Exhibition', and 'Networking' with arrows. A large banner on the left says 'Global People Stronger Together' with a rainbow flag. A banner on the right says 'BOGOTA A BRIGHTER MORE INCLUSIVE TOMORROW' with a cityscape and mountains. The scene is set in a modern building with large windows showing a city view.

Why Accuracy Matters

Imagine you are registering for a bilingual job interview or an international flight. One missed digit means you lose the call!

In English, numbers and contact details require clear, confident pronunciation and immediate comprehension.

Asking About Identity

Essential questions for daily introductions.

KEY QUESTIONS

Name & Origin

What is your name? → My name is Alex. / I'm Alex.

Where do you live? → I live in Bogotá.

Purpose & Reason

Why are you learning English?

→ I'm learning English because I want a better job.

Model Dialogue: Carolina & Alex

Carolina (Interviewer)

"Hello Alex! How are you today? Where do you live, and what is your phone number?"

Alex (Participant)

"I'm great, thanks! I live in Bogotá. My phone number is 315 456 7821. Nice to meet you!"

Polite Conversational Phrases

Keep the Conversation Smooth

- "Nice to meet you!" → Respond with "Nice to meet you too!"
- "That's great!" → Use this to show enthusiasm when someone answers.
- "Me too!" → Agree simply when you share the same city or goal.

Social Tip

Always follow up with "And you?" to keep conversation equal.

Check Your Question Match

Which question is correct when asking for someone's phone number?

1. When are your phone number?

2. How old is your phone number?

3. Where is your phone number?

4. What's your phone number?

Cardinal Numbers 0 to 10

Every digit is pronounced individually in phone numbers and codes.

0-2

Zero / One / Two

0 = zero (or "oh") · 1 = one · 2 = two

3-5

Three / Four / Five

3 = three (soft 'th') · 4 = four · 5 = five

6-8

Six / Seven / Eight

6 = six · 7 = seven · 8 = eight (/eɪt/)

9-

Nine / Ten

10

9 = nine (/naɪn/) · 10 = ten

Numbers 11 to 20

11 to 15

11 eleven · 12 twelve

13 thirteen · 14 fourteen · 15 fifteen

16 to 20

16 sixteen · 17 seventeen

18 eighteen · 19 nineteen · 20 twenty

Counting by Tens: 20 to 100

Notice how each tens word ends in -ty:

20 twenty · 30 thirty · 40 forty

50 fifty · 60 sixty · 70 seventy

80 eighty · 90 ninety · 100 one hundred

Spelling Alert

Notice: four (4) has a 'u', but forty (40) has NO 'u'!

The Crucial Stress Contrast

-TEEN: Stress at the END

High pitch and strong breath on the final syllable:

- thir-TEEN (13)
- four-TEEN (14)
- fif-TEEN (15)

-TY: Stress at the START

Strong first syllable and short, soft ending:

- THIR-ty (30)
- FOR-ty (40)
- FIF-ty (50)

Watch and repeat the numbers aloud, focusing on the differences between teens and tens.

Saying Your Age Correctly

How old are you?

In English, we use the verb to be for age, NOT the verb to have:

- ✓ "I am 25 years old." (or simply "I'm 25.")
- ✓ "She is 35 years old."

Common Mistake

Never say: "I have 25 years." English uses am / is / are.

Saying Your Birthday

To answer "When is your birthday?", use "My birthday is on [Month] [Day]."

Three Steps to Dictate Phone Numbers

315

Step 1: One by One

Say each digit individually.
Never group digits into hundreds or thousands.

Step 2: Group & Pause

Divide digits into chunks of 3 or 4: 3-1-5 [pause] 4-5-6 [pause]
7-8-2-1.

Step 3: Confirm

Read the number back to confirm: *"Let me repeat that:
315..."*

Pronouncing 0 in Phone Numbers

Option A: "Zero"

Very clear, formal, and widely understood across all English-speaking countries.

Example: 302 401 5500

"three - zero - two, four - zero - one..."

Option B: "Oh"

Common in informal American English, pronouncing the digit 0 like the letter 'O'.

Example: 302 401 5500

"three - oh - two, four - oh - one..."

Pair Practice: The Phone Interview

Student A & Student B

- Partner A: Ask: "What's your phone number?" and write down the numbers you hear.
- Partner B: Dictate a fictional 10-digit number digit by digit with rhythm.
- Check: Partner A reads it back: "Is it 312 890 4412?" Switch roles!

Pair Interview Exchange

Ask your partner: What is your name, how old are you, when is your birthday, and what is your phone number? Write their details.

Pair Interview Exchange

You might have said...

Student A: What is your name? Student B: My name is...

Student A: How old are you? Student B: I am ... years old.

Student A: When is your birthday? Student B: It is on...

Student A: What is your phone number? Student B: It is...

Your Mini-Presentation

Synthesizing personal information into a cohesive spoken self-introduction.

ORAL PRODUCTION

Speaking Template

"Hello everyone! My name is [Name]. I am [Age] years old, and my birthday is on [Month Day]. I live in [City], and I am learning English because [Reason]. My phone number is [Phone Number]. Nice to meet you!"

Checklist: Did you pronounce your age with "am"? Did you dictate your phone number digit by digit?

Self-Check: Can You Do It?

Review your progress for today's session against our communicative targets:

I can ask and answer: "How old are you?" and "When is your birthday?"

I can pronounce numbers 0-20 and distinguish teens (13-19) from tens (30-90).

I can dictate my phone number clearly digit by digit and write a partner's number.

Check Your Understanding

Question 1:

How do you correctly state your age in English?

Question 2:

How are phone numbers pronounced in English?

Question 3:

Where does the stress fall on the word fifteen vs fifty?

Check Your Understanding

Answer 1:

I am [age] years old (using verb to be).

Answer 2:

Digit by digit, one number at a time with short pauses.

Answer 3:

Stress is at the end for fifteen (fif-TEEN) and at the start for fifty (FIF-ty).
