

Countries and Nationalities

Where Are You From?

Recap: Possessive Adjectives and Pronouns (Complete)

Review key rules from Lesson 6:

- Adjective + noun: We use my, your, his, her, our, their before a noun (e.g., This is their car).
- Pronoun alone: We use mine, yours, his, hers, ours, theirs with no noun after (e.g., The car is theirs).
- Owner determines form: We choose his for a male owner and her/hers for a female owner.

Check: Is this sentence correct? "That passport is hers." Why do we not say her?

Learning Objectives

Objectives

1

Ask and answer the question "Where are you from?" with correct pronunciation and intonation.

2

Distinguish countries and nationalities using accurate spelling, capitalization, and common suffix patterns.

3

Introduce yourself and other classmates using full sentences with the verb to be and origin phrases.

Key Vocabulary

Country

A nation like Colombia or Canada.

Nationality

Your origin status, like Colombian.

Where

A question word for place.

From

Starting place or home origin.

Warm-Up: The World Map

Look at the global map. Where do you live, and what countries do you already recognise in English?

Asking Where Someone Is From

In English, we use the WH-question word Where combined with the verb to be and the preposition from.

- You: Where are you from? → I am from Colombia.
- He / She: Where is she from? → She is from Peru.
- They: Where are they from? → They are from Spain.

Definition

From connects a person to their city or country of origin.

Country vs. Nationality

Country (Place)

Use from + [Country].

- I am from Colombia.
- Carlos is from Brazil.

Nationality (Identity)

Use [to be] + [Nationality] directly (no from).

- I am Colombian.
- Carlos is Brazilian.

Capitalization Rule in English

In English, countries, nationalities, and languages always begin with a CAPITAL letter. This is different from Spanish!

✓ Colombia → Colombian (Spanish: colombiano)

✓ Canada → Canadian (Spanish: canadiense)

Mistake

Never write nationalities in lowercase: i am colombian is incorrect.

Suffix Group: -an and -ian

Colombia

Colombian

Sofia is from Colombia. She is Colombian.

Venezuela

Venezuelan

Luis is from Venezuela. He is Venezuelan.

Canada

Canadian

Alex is from Canada. He is Canadian.

Brazil

Brazilian

Thiago is from Brazil. He is Brazilian.

Suffix Groups: -ish, -ese, and Irregular

-ish Endings

Spain → Spanish

England → English

Mateo is from Spain. He is Spanish.

-ese Endings

Japan → Japanese

China → Chinese

Ken is from Japan. He is Japanese.

Irregular Forms

France → French

Germany → German

Claire is from France. She is French.

Syllable Stress and Rhythm

When words change from country to nationality, the rhythm and accent often shift to a different syllable:

- CA-na-da (stress on 1st) → Ca-NA-di-an (stress on 2nd)
- Ja-PAN (stress on 2nd) → Ja-pa-NESE (stress on 3rd)
- Co-LOM-bia → Co-LOM-bi-an (stress stays on 2nd)

Tip

Listen to the stressed vowel clearly before repeating each country and nationality.

Short Answers with "Are you...?"

We can ask about origins using yes/no questions with to be:

- With Country: Are you from Mexico? → Yes, I am. / No, I'm not.
- With Nationality: Is he Brazilian? → Yes, he is. / No, he isn't.
- Full correction: No, I'm not. I'm from Colombia. I'm Colombian.
